Item 8.01. Other Information.

As previously disclosed, on September 15, 2019, SemGroup Corporation (“SemGroup” or the “Company”) entered into an Agreement and Plan of Merger (the “Merger Agreement”) with Energy Transfer LP, a Delaware limited partnership (“Energy Transfer”) and Nautilus Merger Sub LLC, a Delaware limited liability company and a newly formed, wholly owned subsidiary of Energy Transfer (“Merger Sub”), pursuant to which Merger Sub will merge with and into SemGroup (the “Merger”), with SemGroup continuing as the surviving company and a direct wholly owned subsidiary of Energy Transfer. On October 30, 2019, SemGroup filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (the “SEC”) a definitive proxy statement for the solicitation of proxies in connection with the special meeting of SemGroup’s stockholders to be held on December 4, 2019, for purposes of voting, among other things, on the adoption of the Merger Agreement (the “Proxy Statement/Prospectus”).

In connection with the Merger Agreement and the transactions contemplated thereby, [seven] complaints, including multiple purported class action complaints, have been filed on behalf of SemGroup stockholders against SemGroup and members of the SemGroup’s board of directors in the United States District Courts for the District of Delaware, Southern District of New York and the District of Colorado. The [seven] complaints are captioned as follows: Walpole v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-01957-MN (D. Del.) (Oct. 15, 2019), Thompson v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-01948-MN (D. Del.) (Oct. 15, 2019), Lawrence v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-02035-UNA (D. Del.) (Oct. 28, 2019), Topley v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-09630 (S.D.N.Y.) (Oct. 18, 2019), Hills v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-10412 (S.D.N.Y.) (Nov. 8, 2019), Marzacco v. SemGroup Corporation, et al., Case 1:19-cv-10610 (S.D.N.Y.) (Nov. 15, 2019), Stallings v. SemGroup Corporation et al., Case 1:19-cv-03108 (D.Co.) (Oct. 31, 2019), which SemGroup and Energy Transfer refer to collectively as the “Stockholder Actions”. In general, the Stockholder Actions allege that the defendants violated Sections 14(a) and 20(a) of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (the “Exchange Act”), or aided and abetted in such alleged violations, because the Proxy Statement/Prospectus allegedly omits or misstates material information. The Stockholder Actions seek, among other things, injunctive relief preventing the consummation of the Merger, unspecified damages and attorneys’ fees.

SemGroup, Energy Transfer and the other named defendants believe that no supplemental disclosures are required under applicable laws; however, to avoid the risk of the Stockholder Actions delaying the Merger and to minimize the expense of defending the Stockholder Actions, and without admitting any liability or wrongdoing, SemGroup and Energy Transfer are making certain disclosures below that supplement and revise those contained in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, which SemGroup and Energy Transfer refer to as the “litigation-related supplemental disclosures.” The litigation-related supplemental disclosures contained below should be read in conjunction with the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, which is available on the Internet site maintained by the SEC at <http://www.sec.gov>, along with periodic reports and other information SemGroup and Energy Transfer file with the SEC. SemGroup, Energy Transfer and the other named defendants have denied, and continue to deny, that they have committed or assisted others in committing any violations of law, and expressly maintain that, to the extent applicable, they complied with their legal obligations and are providing the litigation-related supplemental disclosures below solely to try to eliminate the burden and expense of further litigation, to put the claims that were or could have been asserted to rest, and to avoid any possible delay to the closing of the Merger that might arise from further litigation. Nothing in the litigation-related supplemental disclosures shall be deemed an admission of the legal necessity or materiality under applicable laws of any of the litigation-related supplemental disclosures set forth herein. To the extent that the information set forth herein differs from or updates information contained in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, the information set forth herein shall supersede or supplement the information in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus. All page references are to pages in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus, and terms used below, unless otherwise defined, have the meanings set forth in the Proxy Statement/Prospectus.

The members of the SemGroup board unanimously recommend that SemGroup stockholders vote “FOR” the merger proposal, “FOR” the advisory compensation proposal and “FOR” the adjournment proposal.

The disclosure in the section entitled “Proposal 1: The Merger” under the heading “Background of the Merger”, beginning on page 34 of the proxy statement, is hereby amended by:

Amending and restating the third and fourth sentences in the fifth full paragraph on page 36 under the heading “Background of the Merger” as follows:

Thereafter, the SemGroup board of directors determined that it would not agree to exclusivity with any counterparty at such time and considered the value to its stockholders of a sale-of-the-company transaction despite the earlier terminated discussions with other potential buyers and ongoing negotiations with Company A in respect of the proposed joint venture transaction. Further, the SemGroup board of directors instructed representatives of Jefferies to proceed with a formal market check process, including outreach to potential counterparties, in order to seek additional indications of value for SemGroup in response to Energy Transfer’s increased, revised unsolicited proposal.

Amending and restating the fourth full paragraph on page 39 under the heading “Background of the Merger” as follows:

On September 13, 2019, the SemGroup board of directors convened telephonically to discuss the status of the market check process as well as the definitive documentation with Energy Transfer. Representatives of Jefferies (i) summarized that the market check process was unable to generate a higher valuation and that Energy Transfer’s offer, as delineated on September 10, 2019, remained the proposal that would generate the highest value to stockholders, (ii) summarized that SemGroup received indications of interest from Company D for $12.00 per share, Company E for $14.25 per share, Company F for $13.50 to $15.00 per share, Company G for $15.00 per share, and Energy Transfer for an aggregate value of $17.00 per share, and (iii) disclosed the ownership of a de minimis amount of ET common units through a managed account by a representative of Jefferies and that Jefferies held securities of SemGroup and Energy Transfer in the ordinary course of business for its own account and for the accounts of its customers, which ownership the SemGroup board of directors determined to be immaterial. Representatives of Jefferies discussed various aspects of the potential transaction, including, without limitation, (w) a situation update and a summary of key transaction terms proposed by each potential counterparty that submitted a proposal, (x) an overview and sensitivity analysis of valuation assumptions in respect of Energy Transfer’s proposal, (y) an overview of the valuation analyses of Energy Transfer and SemGroup, followed by detail regarding public market trading multiples, discounted cash flow analyses, and (z) a comparison of broker research target price estimates for ET and SemGroup. The SemGroup board of directors discussed the merits of the transaction and the financial analyses provided by Jefferies, together with the value to SemGroup’s stockholder expected to be achieved if the transaction were consummated. At the request of Mr. McDaniel, Kirkland reiterated the SemGroup board of directors’ fiduciary duties in respect of its consideration of a strategic transaction of this nature and discussed the timing of the proposed acquisition transaction with Energy Transfer. Kirkland also summarized the status of negotiations with Energy Transfer with respect to the merger agreement, including, (a) a proposed private letter ruling regarding the partially tax-free nature of the transaction, (b) treatment of the SemGroup preferred stock in compliance with the terms of the certificate of designations governing the terms thereof, (c) SemGroup’s non-solicitation obligations, including the prohibition against SemGroup soliciting an acquisition proposal during the pendency of the merger, (d) the break-up fee, (e) the “hell-or-high-water” standard and burden of risk in respect of clearance under United States anti-competition laws, and (f) the negative operating covenants during the pendency of the merger, including in respect of employee retention matters and charitable giving commitments.

Using publicly available information, selected analyst reports and information provided by SemGroup and Energy Transfer, Jefferies analyzed (i) the selected financial data of SemGroup with similar data of ten crude oil and refined products public companies that Jefferies judged to be comparable to SemGroup for purposes of its valuation analysis, based on the ratio of enterprise value to EBITDA and the distribution or dividend yield of each such comparable company, as set forth in the table “Comparable public companies with respect to SemGroup” and (ii) the selected financial data of Energy Transfer with similar data of six large cap pipeline public companies that Jefferies judged to be comparable to Energy Transfer for purposes of its valuation analysis, based on the ratio of enterprise value to EBITDA and the distribution or dividend yield of each such comparable company, as set forth in the table “Comparable public companies with respect to Energy Transfer”. These companies, which are referred to as comparable public companies, were selected because they were deemed to be similar to SemGroup or Energy Transfer, as applicable, in one or more respects, including the nature of their business, size, diversification and financial performance, including such ratios and yields. No specific numeric or other similar criteria were used to select the comparable public companies and all criteria were evaluated in their entirety without application of definitive qualifications or limitations to individual criteria. Amending and restating the first paragraph on page 50 under the heading “Discounted Cash Flow Analysis” of “Opinion of SemGroup’s Financial Advisor” as follows:

Jefferies performed a discounted cash flow analysis to estimate the present value of cash available for dividends of SemGroup and distributable cash flow of Energy Transfer, from calendar year 2020 through calendar year 2024 with respect to SemGroup and from calendar year 2020 through calendar year 2022 with respect to Energy Transfer, using financial projections provided by SemGroup and Energy Transfer, discount rates of 10.77% and 9.77% with respect to SemGroup, discount rates of 10.15% and 9.15% with respect to Energy Transfer, terminal yield values of 12.50% and 11.50% with respect to SemGroup and terminal yield values of 8.50% and 7.50% with respect to Energy Transfer. In selecting the discount rates, Jefferies calculated SemGroup’s and Energy Transfer’s respective cost of equity. The cost of equity calculation utilized analysis of selected publicly traded entities that Jefferies deemed relevant in one or more respects. Such analysis takes into account certain financial metrics, including capital structure, the cost of long-term Treasury debt, tax rates and betas for such publicly traded entities, as well as certain financial metrics for the U.S. financial markets generally.
